

Form of review of articles submitted to the editorial board of the scientific journal "Vita Antiqua"

Title of the peer-reviewed article

1. Does the title of the article correspond to its content?

Yes                      No                      Need revision

2. Does the article contain scientific novelty / value?

Yes                      No                      Need revision

3. Is the author's scientific style, logic and clarity of presentation?

Yes                      No                      Need revision

4. Are the research methods relevant to the problem?

Yes                      No                      Need revision

5. Did the author adhere to the standards of academic integrity?

Yes                      No                      Need revision

6. Is it appropriate to cite the works of other authors?

Yes                      No                      Need revision

7. Does the abstract meet the requirements of the article?

Yes                      No                      Need revision

8. The arguments, reasoning and conclusions of the author are convincing?

Yes                      No                      Need revision

9. Assess the literacy of writing / translating articles or English elements (abstracts and references):

No need for editing.

A slight adjustment is required.

Substantial proofreading is required.

